Survey of Broadway For Widening Starts

RAMMING THROUGH THE MISSISSIPPI—A coal barge rams its way through the ice floes that have almost clogged the Mississippi River and brought traffic on the waterway to a near standstill. The floes, some of them a foot thick, give the appearance of giant lily pads in this photo made from the air near St. Louis.

Right-of-Way Stakes Placed By Engineers

March 1 Is Deadline To Arrange Moving Service, Meter Box

Missouri State Highway Department engineers are surveying Broadway in accordance with their plans to widen and improve the street from New York to Limit.

Engineers have been placing stakes in some instances on the inside of sidewalks, which has some property owners confused. But it is no more than surveying for the right-of-way of the Highway Department, and this stake simply marks that right-of-way.

Street right-of-ways in most cases go to beyond the sidewalk in front of property, but the property owner still must maintain the walk in front of his home and continue as in the past the summer chore of grass cutting.

Broadway will be widened to 64 feet. In other words, the street will be 32 feet on each side of the center line of the present roadway. This holds true with the exception of a section between Lamine and Osage where a slight difference in width will be made to take care of safety zones.

Letters have already been mailed to property owners whose water meter service is in the parking area and which must be moved to within the property line, or on the side the walk closest to the residence. These services must be changed before work will be started on the Broadway improvement.

A resolution passed by the City Council several weeks ago calls for the property owners to contact the office of the Sedalia Water Co., 111 West Fourth, without delay and not later than March 1, and make suitable and adequate arrangements for the relocation of replacement of the water service connection and meter box installation.

This does not mean that the work must be completed by March 1. It means that the arrangements must be made by that date.

The water company will run the service from the main to the new location of the water meter, at which point the property owner must have his own plumber locate the meter box and make the necessary connections at the box.

Many property owners made these changes several years ago when trouble developed in their service and it had to be repaired. Under the city ordinance, when a service is repaired, the meter box must then be moved to within the property line.

If arrangements are not made by property owners whose services must be changed, then other action may have to be taken, such as cutting off the service to that particular property owner. As it stands now, the property owner can make arrangements to pay for the work over a 12-month installment plan if this is desired.

The Highway Department will grade, repave, and build completely new curbs and gutters along the highway from New York to Limit, at no cost to the property owners.

Bids for the work of paving and building the curbs and gutters will be opened by the Highway Department on Feb. 21. The Commission will either award or reject the contract bids at a meeting about March 10.

Woman Faces $9,869 Embezzlement Charge

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 15 (AP)—A 26-year-old woman was arrested and arraigned here today on a federal charge of embezzling $9,869 from Security Bank of Auxvasse, Mo.

Miss Grace Elizabeth Stephens, 26, of McCredie, Mo., was released on $1,500 bond, which was set by U. S. Commissioner Joe L. Kendrick.

Auxvasse is a Callaway County town about 45 miles northeast of here. McCredie is near Auxvasse.

Percy Wyly II, agent in charge of the FBI office in Kansas City, said there that Miss Stephens "made false entry" in books and records of the Auxvasse bank.

Test Shot Of 'Atlas' Is Halted

Smoke Cloud Hides Missile for Moment But Not Damaged

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., Feb. 15 (AP)—A test firing of an Atlas Intercontinental Ballistic Missile was halted today a split second before the "Big A" would have blasted off its firing pad.

There was a huge belch of smoke, but the fuel never got to the engines of the Atlas, mightiest of American war weapons.

Watchers outside the test center saw the great cloud of smoke and thought the Atlas had exploded on its launching pad. But when the smoke cleared away "The Beast" could be seen still standing, its sharp nose pointed skyward.

The Air Force announced that the test was "postponed after encountering technical difficulties immediately prior to the launching.

"The test conductor cut off the engines when instrumentation indicated a possible malfunction.

"No apparent damage was done to the missile, which will be rescheduled for firing in the near future."

It became apparent in midmorning that the Air Force was running a countdown on the Atlas. "The Beast," as it is known to its builders, was out in the open, clear of its work tower.

The crew apparently waited for several hours while a cold rainstorm passed over the cape. Then, at 2:18 p.m. EST the firing button apparently was pressed.

A huge ball of smoke belched out from the base of the Atlas and hid it for several minutes.

Then the smoke cleared away, and the Atlas could be seen still standing on its launching pad.

It would have been the sixth flight test of the Atlas, which is designed to carry a hydrogen warhead to a target 5,000 miles away.

The Air Force has not announced when it plans to send an Atlas the full distance. All previous tests have been over limited ranges.

Youth Is Hurt When Automobile Overturns

James William Page, 16, son of Mrs. Louis Mosier, 1316 South Carr, was painfully hurt about 1:10 a.m. Saturday when the car he was driving overturned several times. The accident occurred on Highway 65 in front of the Whispering Oaks development, about five miles south of Sedalia.

Page was taken to Bothwell Hospital by a passing motorist where Dr. D. R. Edwards rendered medical treatment. The youth suffered a cut under the chin and numerous scrapes on both arms and his face.

The youth was headed south and apparently cut the curve too sharp, went to the left side of the pavement, nosed into a driveway drain and the car then swerved around and rolled over. The front end was mashed, both sides of the car damaged and the front part of the top smashed down.

The car was towed to the Chamberlin Service Garage.

Four Persons Killed In Two-Car Collision

KING CITY, Mo., Feb. 15 (AP)—Four persons, three of them from one family, died this afternoon in an automobile collision on U. S. 169, north of King City.

Vernon Stegman, 60 - year - old King City farmer, his wife, Hattie who was in her middle 50s; and their 14-year-old son Donnie were killed outright. Miss Garnett Weigert, 21, Grant City, Mo., died in Missouri Methodist Hospital at St. Joseph a short time later.

Paul Cecil Smith, 31, Prairie Village, Kan., a suburb of Kansas City, was hurt and at Missouri Methodist Hospital was reported in critical condition.

The highway patrol said Stegman's car, headed south, apparently went out control and veered into the path of Smith's northbound car.

US Is Trying to Talk France, Tunisia Into Settling Dispute

TUNIS, Feb. 15 (AP)—The United States is trying to talk France and Tunisia into settling their bombing dispute together to keep it off a world stage in the United Nations, informed sources said today.

U. S. diplomats were reported discussing conciliation with French officials both in Paris and Washington.

The hope was to get some sort of talks started before Tunisia takes its case into the U. N. Security Council Tuesday with the Soviet delegate, Arkady Sobolev, sitting as president.

Western quarters expressed fears a U.N. debate on the French bombing of the Tunisian border village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef a week ago would aggravate anti-Western feelings in sensitive North Africa and the Middle East. It also would give the Communists a sounding board.

"Nothing could be more embarrassing to the West than a U.N. debate," a diplomat here said.

Nevertheless, the Tunisian delegation at the U.N. went ahead rounding up sponsors for a resolution condemning "French aggression." France has filed a countercomplaint asking the council to condemn "assistance furnished by Tunisia to Algerian rebels."

Tunisian sources at the U. N. said Iraq, only Arab member of the Middle East's anti-Communist Baghdad Pact, had agreed to sponsor the Tunisian resolution.

Informants in Tunis said exploratory talks were in progress in the United States and France to find a face saving formula that would enable Tunisia to withdraw its protest to the 11-nation Security Council. There were doubts that Tunisia could get the seven votes for a resolution condemning France.

The French contend the air raid on the border village was an action to wipe out Algerian rebels harassing French troops and planes from Tunisian sanctuaries. They have expressed regret for civilian casualties.

Tunisia has indicated it will withdraw the complaint if France agrees to mediation by the United States. France has indicated coolness to direct mediation.

Revolutionary Government In Indonesia

PADANG, Indonesia, Sunday, Feb. 16 (AP)—A revolutionary government for Indonesia was proclaimed last night with the aim of ousting Premier Djuanda and forcing President Sukarno to give up his "guided democracy" program.

It was the guided democracy program that brought Communists into the central government. Rebel leaders said they will continue to consider Sukarno as president, but only under certain conditions.

Dr. Sjafruddin Prawiranegara, former finance minister and until recently governor of the Bank of Indonesia, was named premier and finance minister.

The new Premier appeared before a wildly cheering crowd of 40,000 in this small Indian ocean port and declared: "To leave this disease creeping undisturbed for fear of surgery by a doctor or because of apathy will mean we have no right to live as free people."

He apparently was referring to corruption, which the rebel leaders assert is rife in the central government, as well as communism.

One leader said the uprising is unique "because it is the only open rebellion against corruption and communism in Asia."

Guavina Grounded On San Salvador Island

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—(AP)—The Navy said today the submarine Guavina is aground on the north side of San Salvador Island in the Caribbean.

The submarine, which is used as a fuel supply vessel for submarines and aircraft, went aground Feb. 12 when high winds and heavy sleet caused the boat to drag anchor.

There were no casualties among the 84 men and officers aboard the submarine, the Navy said.

The Guavina had been sent from Puerto Rico on Feb. 9 to make repairs to a Navy patrol seaplane which also required fuel.

Safeway Seeks New Location

Owners Negotiate for Area In 500 Block On Kentucky

Sedalia's downtown business area is getting another "shot-in-the-arm" in business improvements with the announcement the Safeway Stores Inc., are negotiating for more than three quarters of a full block on which an ultra-modern store is to be built. William H. Bunn, well known realtor here, it has been learned, has been negotiating with property owners for the purchase of the land, located west from the Federated Church on Sixth, and west from the former Fifth Street Methodist Church property on Kentucky, on Fifth.

The amount of the transaction was not released. However, Mr. Bunn did state when queried about the proposal that he had been delegated by the Safeway Stores Inc., to negotiate for the land.

Safeway for several years has had a desire for a downtown location. The one which negotiations are nearly complete on now was one of the first sites the firm had made known their desire to own. At the time the property was not obtainable due to the Fifth Street Methodist Church, and property owners in the vicinity not desiring to sell.

However, since the Fifth Street Church has purchased a new location and built their new church on West Broadway and the property sold for a city parking lot, these property owners were again approached and all are in the process of selling to the Safeway.

On Fifth Street the property of Mrs. Sybil O. Myers, 213 West Fifth, and the property of Mr. and Mrs. C. Lloyd Elliott, 219 West Fifth, at the corner of Kentucky, and about 14 feet, 3 inches of the Bohling Estate property which was purchased by the city, is being bought. On Sixth Street, the property of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wilborn, 210 West Sixth, and the property at 214-16 West Sixth owned by Mrs. Flora E. Johns, which is the corner property at Sixth and Kentucky, is being negotiated.

Bunn is negotiating for the individual properties for E. W. Thompson who in turn is to transfer the properties over to Safeway Stores Inc., as one parcel.

The property of the Federated Church, Sixth and Osage, will not be in the transaction.

The city parking lot will be constructed as planned and the land which the city is selling is for the convience of all parties in squaring off the lands. The small strip would do little for the parking lot anyway, it was explained.

It is known the Safeway Stores Inc., plan on constructing an ultra-modern supermarket store. It will probably carry out the lines of architecture of their large stores in the cities, following out also their plans and specifications.

The decision to obtain this property for a new location is not only a boom to the downtown business area but comes at a good time in helping with local labor. Construction of the new building will take much labor, Bunn explained, and will be a big lift here.

Bunn said as soon as negotiations are fully completed he expected Safeway to begin construction as soon as possible.

Sedalia Loan Co. Buys Old REA Building

Will Move to Fifth And Osage After Place Is Remodeled

The Sedalia Industrial Loan and Investment Company, Fourth and Ohio, has purchased the building formerly occupied by the Central Missouri Electric Cooperative, better known as the REA, on the northeast corner of Fifth and Osage.

E. W. Thompson presently has the building occupied with the Edsel Sales Co.

The firm intends to begin remodeling this summer with the intention of moving into the new quarters in the fall. The firm's lease at its present location expires in December.

The transaction was completed late Friday between the loan company and George and Mabel Evans, who had purchased the building from the REA when the REA moved to its new building on North Highway 65.

Claude Boul, president of Industrial Loan and Investment, said, "The new location gives the company approximately twice the space it now has in its present operation. It will give us an opportunity to give our customers better service.

"An important advantage, too," he pointed out, "is that it puts us very close to convenient parking facilities for our customers."

Boul referred to the new off-street parking lot which will be constructed shortly on the southwest corner of the same intersection, where the Fifth Street Methodist Church used to stand.

The move will be the highlight of the company's 34th year, the anniversary of which will be March 5. It was back in 1924 that the firm was first established with $2,000. It has operated without interruption ever since and now has more than two million dollars in outstanding notes. Including Boul, the company has ten employees.

There will be extensive remodeling of both the exterior and interior of the new quarters, Boul said. One change will be that of moving the entrance from the corner to the Fifth Street side at the east end, so that the building will have a Fifth Street address. Some of the planning for the remodeling is still in the development stage, he said.

Recovers Good Spirits

Young Airman Nears the End Of Simulated Flight to Moon

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 15 (AP)— Airman Donald G. Farrell, cheerful and obviously pleased with himself, was bringing his mythical space ship back close to earth today.

If the few final hours go well the blond 23-year-old volunteer will step from an experimental space cabin at nearby Randolph Air Force Base at 9:35 a.m. CST tomorrow after seven days of make-believe space travel.

"There is no doubt in our minds that Farrell will come through with flying colors," Lt. Col. George R. Steinkamp, chief of space medicine at Randolph, told a press briefing today. "Air Force colors, of course."

"His voice sounded very cheerful today after he awakened. Ever since midnight he has appeared satisfied with himself that he has put on a good show."

Other than the apparent cheery tone in Farrell's voice, Steinkamp said the six-foot, 185-pound airman made no outward sign this morning as he completed his sixth weary and lonesome day in the hermetically sealed steel chamber.

Steinkamp said Farrell's big crisis came yesterday. Throughout the day and until midnight he showed serious signs of increasing fatigue. His reactions became slower and judgment poorer in solving the experimental space travel problems flashed to him on a closed circuit television screen.

"We had expected the fatigue, but we were worried," Steinkamp said. "Then he slept from about 10 p.m. until midnight. Surprisingly he perked up. His discrimination and judgment were better. He did not skip any tasks. Our hopes soared."

Steinkamp said space scientists were "very enthusiastic" over expected results of the seven-day test. He predicted it would take about 60 days to correlate findings. Tentative findings of the experiment will be presented to the annual Jet Age Conference in Washington on March 28.

Bets 98 Million More on Chance To Swerve Poles

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP) — The United States bet 98 million dollars more today on the chances of developing independent communism in Poland.

The money, to be used to finance exports of surplus food products and some machinery and raw materials to Poland, approximately doubles the amount of U.S. assistance to the Eastern European Communist nation within a year. The total stands at 193 million.

The United States announced, furthermore, that it is prepared to discuss additional food surplus sales to Poland, the financing of large Polish machinery purchases here, and expansion of U.S.-Polish trade.

The combination of past, present and future aid means that Washington has committed itself on a broad scale to support the efforts of Communist party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka and Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz to give Poland maximum freedom from Soviet domination.

Passengers, Crew Safe After Airliner Crashes

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—A National Airlines plane carrying 11 passengers and three crew members crashed on takeoff today. Nobody was killed.

All aboard walked from the plane to ambulances. One woman was seen to be limping.

Apparently the left wheel on the plane locked when the machine was almost ready to be air borne for Miami. A cross wind estimated at 18 miles an hour was blowing, and the plane skimmed across a shallow neck of water and came to rest in a mangrove swamp.

Soil Bank Allotments

Cooper County Cites Figures on Inequality

BOONVILLE, Mo. (AP)— Cooper County farmers have protested that proposed methods of slicing the 17 million dollar soil bank pie in Missouri will be unfair.

They cite these two sets of figures:

Cooper County has only 184 farmers signed up for allotments totaling $247,600.

Saline County, adjoining, has 1,137 contracts for a staggering $1,823,000 slice of the pie.

Saline's slice, they point out, is three times larger than any other county's in the state, and larger than the total for 10 other counties in this area.

The unequal figures arose when the state Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Committee at Columbia ruled that contracts would be approved with farmers who signed up between Jan. 13 and Jan. 20.

Cooper County farmers assert that some county ASC offices made an all-out effort to enroll everyone they could in that period.

Rep. Hull (D-Mo) went further. He said in Washington Tuesday he had reports that some Missouri counties even back-dated farmers' applications and engaged in other irregularities in the sign-up.

Hull did not name the counties. He asked the state committee for an investigation.

At Columbia Gene Cunningham, state soil bank director, has conceded that some counties apparently were out of line.

Cunningham said sign-up figures for 20 counties appeared to be inflated. In those counties, he said, not all of the contracts will be honored.

He declined to name the counties, but made clear that Saline County wasn't one of them.

Meanwhile, farmers who didn't get signed up — like the 400 on Cooper County's waiting list—are hoping the rules will be changed or the government will come up with some more money.

For Service to Community

Local Club Sponsors Selection Of the Optimists of Year 1957

Again the Optimist Club is sponsoring the program of selecting the man and woman who have done the most outstanding work for the youth of the community as the Optimists of the Year 1957.

The Optimist Club members feel that men and women who give their time and usually money, too, for the happiness and development of the young people of the community should receive recognition.

The people of Pettis County are asked to help in the selecting a person for this honor by sending in the name of the person they feel deserves it and the reasons why. This is not judged through the number of votes but by the things done by the nominees for the services they have given youth.

The two last year were Virginia Flower, whose work with the Crippled Children's Center and other children seemed to the judges as the most outstanding for the women, and George W. Ray, whose work with Teen Town, the Little League, Boy Scouts and other groups seemed to qualify him as the most outstanding man.

The rules for the nominations are as follows: 1. The candidate must have performed outstanding service to youth during the year 1957; 2, must be a resident of Pettis County; 3, nomination blank or letter to be received by the chairman, Gerald Cecil, as to service performed and person submitting nomination; 4, if more than ten names for men and women nominations are received by the Optimist Club then ten will be selected by that organization and three outstanding people of Pettis County will make the final decision.

The three judges this year will be: Virginia Flower, Mrs. Frank Wagner and Jack Faber.

The nominations must be in by Feb. 27.

Plaques will be presented to the two selected at a meeting of the Optimist Club on March 4.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., (AP)—An armed man was arrested today at the Harry S. Truman library after he had made an unsuccessful attempt to gain admittance to the former president's home.

Mike Westwood of the Independence police force said the man gave his name as Richard Paul Goff, 33, Elton, Pa.

He was carrying a foreign made automatic pistol.

Westwood said the man asserted he was carrying the weapon to protect his money. He was carrying more than $600 in currency.

P.T.A.'s to Celebrate Founders Day

11-Million Members Mark Organization's 61st Year

On February 17 the world's largest voluntary service organization will celebrate its 61st birthday.

This is the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, whose nearly eleven million members are active today in P.T.A.'s throughout the 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, and Hawaii. They will mark the organization's Founders Day with a variety of activities aimed at strengthening and expanding parent-teacher work in their own communities.

Mrs. Rollin Brown, of Los Angeles, president of the National Congress, points out that these 43,000 P.T.A.'s have set the pattern for parent-teacher associations in areas where U.S. armed forces have established American communities overseas. And parents of school children in other nations have sought help from the National Congress in forming similar groups to promote education in their countries.

Founders Day activities, scheduled for February 17, will honor two women whose imagination and concern for children planted the seed for this still-growing organization.

It was in 1897 that Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst conceived the idea of a National Congress of Mothers to promote the health and welfare of children by helping their parents learn more about how to fulfill a child's physical and spiritual needs.

They worked hard to interest other women in their aims and approached the date they had set for the organizing meeting with hopes of seeing a hundred or so delegates arrive at Washington's Arlington Hotel. But "if only twenty-five are there," admitted Mrs. Birney, "I shall be satisfied."

More than two thousand men and women turned out!

Their enthusiastic reception of the aims, as outlined by the Founders, and of the lectures, discussions, and conferences that made up the first meeting set the pace for a great national movement. Soon state congresses were founded, and before long the original "mothers' congress" was broadened to include the concept of parents working with teachers.

Since that founding meeting, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers has written an impressive record of achievement. It includes these activities in behalf of children:

Donated hundreds of thousands of dollars in scholarships to students planning to enter the teaching profession.

Initiated a program for the periodic health appraisal of well children from birth through high school—an extension of the Summer Round-Up campaigns under which nearly three million preschool children have received physical examinations.

Promoted successfully thousands of school building projects, including preliminary surveys, educational campaigns, and school bond issues.

Alerted the public to violations of child labor statutes, stressed the need for improved juvenile detention facilities, and supported sound adoption laws.

Helped establish child-care centers for children of working mothers and worked to raise the standards of all child-care establishments.

Established and supported public kindergartens until public support could be secured.

Pioneered in establishing and maintaining thousands of hot school lunch programs long before the public in general became aware of their importance.

Helped to keep the schools open during the years of war and depression—an achievement for which it received a special citation from the National Education Association.

Standing: Mrs. Henry J. Finley, chairman of the Press Committee; Mrs. James H. McGill, chairman of the Entertainment Committee; Mrs. A. A. Birney, chairman of the Committee on Arrangements; Mrs. H. W. Fuller, chairman of the Transportation Committee; Miss Mary Louisa Butler, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Harriet A. McLellan, chairman of the Literature Committee.

Headquarters of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers stands today at 700 North Rush Street, in Chicago. The building, dedicated in 1955, won an award from the Chicago chapter of the American Institute of Architects and the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry for excellence in architecture.

Mrs. Rollin Brown, president, uses giant thermometer to illustrate how membership in the National Congress has more than doubled since 1947.

Whittier School Led the Way

PTA Work in Missouri Started In 1889; Organized Here in 1913

The first Parent-Teacher work began in Missouri in 1899 when a circle was organized in the Irving School in Kansas City by Mrs. E. A. Weeks. That was just two years after the first organization by Mrs. Alice McLellan Birney and Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst when they had the idea and acted.

It was in March 1912, when the annual convention of the national congress of Parent-Teacher Associations was held in St. Louis, that with 500 members in the state, that the national congress was asked to form a Missouri state branch and did. The Missouri branch was organized on March 25, 1912, in the Lafayette Hotel in St. Louis.

A year later, in 1913, the state president, Mrs. J B. McBride, interested Sedalia parents and teachers in the work being done and the first association was organized here in that year at Whittier School. At this time Whittier PTA had a large and very active membership and the whole community became interested in the things that were being accomplished by this school through the PTA. The fact was that the school was provided with all the necessities by tis new organization which was called a circle and it had been devoting most of its time to educational and social lines.

On Nov. 6, of the next year, 1914 two Parent-Teacher Associations were organized, one in the afternoon at Broadway School with Mrs. H. L. White, chairman, and one at Summit School, which is now Washington, during the evening, with Mrs. W. E. Momberg as president.

On Jan 29, of 1915, the PTA was organized at Prospect School which is now Mark Twain, with Mrs. J. E. Cannaday as president.

On Jan. 29, of 1915, the PTA was organized at Prospect School which is now Mark Twain, with Mrs. J. E. Cannaday as president.

In May of 1916, Horace Mann PTA was organized with Ernest G. Bylander, the secretary of the Missouri State Fair being elected president and serving two terms.

On Nov. 30, 1920, Jefferson PTA organized with 76 members and Mrs. Bessie Eirls as president.

It was not until March 8, 1921, that the Sedalia High School PTA was organized with Supt. C. A. Green as temporary chairman, A. L. Shortridge the first president and 100 members enrolled. The first year in the high school was in the new Smith-Cotton building the Smith-Cotton PTA had the distinction of having the largest membership of any in the state with over 800 members.

During the years from 1917 to 1925 other schools which are no longer in existence, organized PTAs. They were Arlington, in Nov. 1917, with Mrs. J. W. Nelson as president; Eugene Field in 1919 with Mrs. Alfred P. Chappel as chairman and Martha Letts in September 1925. The first president of the Martha Letts PTA was Mrs. G. C. Hoffman and it had 48 members. In 1931 this organization ceased when the Martha Letts Junior High School combined with Smith-Cotton.

The first PTA Council met for the first time on Nov. 25, 1919, with Mrs. C. C. Evans as president and later all Parent-Teacher Associations in Sedalia became affiliated.

Among the things purchased by the PTAs of the various schools have been playground equipment, pianos, victrolas, sets if books, laterns and slides, furniture and rugs in the teachers' rest rooms, records, dishes, pictures, graveling driveways, milk for the children, kitchen supplies to provide hot lunches for the children, and many other things.

All of the school principals played a great part in the PTA work in their respective schools. Miss Nina K. Slater organized the PTA in Prospect, later Mark Twain and Miss Lida Burress, who was principal of Broadway for many years, said that while she appreciated the essentials and the schools could not get along without them, she believed that the greatest good derived is the sympathetic cooperation of parents and teachers.

Sets Dedication Old Drum Statue At Warrensburg

Richard Raker, chairman of the Old Drum Committee, has announced that Saturday, Sept. 27, has been selected for the formal dedication of the Old Drum memorial statue at Warrensburg.

The memorial will consist of a statue of Old Drum placed on a pedestal on which will be inscribed in a bronze tablet the immortal words of Sen. George Graham Vest, now referred to as "A Tribute to the Dog."

From Sen. Vest's tribute to Old Drum came the phrase "Man's Best Friend." It was Sen. Vest's now famous tribute which caused a jury on the night of Sept. 23, 1871, to bring in a verdict of $50 damages for Drum's owner, Charles Burden.

The statue for the memorial is being sculptored by Reno Gastaldi, Gastaldi Studios, Maplewood, Mo. Finishing touches are being made by Gastaldi. The plaster cast, from which the Roman Bronze Co. of New York will make the 1¼ life-size statue of Old Drum, will be shipped to New York on March 1.

The memorial will be placed on the Johnson County courthouse lawn near the intersection of Holden and Houx Streets.

Stassen Quits To Seek Pa. Governorship

Eisenhower Accepts His Resignation With Deep Regret

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 15—(AP)—Harold E. Stassen stepped out today as President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser and announced he is a candidate for governor of Pennsylvania.

Stassen's resignation in order to run on the Republican ticket in the May primary was announced at the President's vacation headquarters.

Eisenhower said he was accepting the resignation with deep regret. As is his custom in the case of primary races, the President did not directly endorse Stassen's gubernatorial bid. But in a "Dear Harold" letter to Stassen he said "you have much to contribute to the future of our country."

In recent weeks there have been published reports—one pinned to a high administration official — that Eisenhower had decided Stassen had outlived his usefulness as disarmament adviser and would have to go .

But White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty replied today "of course he wasn't" when asked whether Stassen had been requested to quit. He said the friendly tone of the President's letter should scotch any such idea.

Hagerty said it was Stassen's own decision and added that the decision was inevitable and automatic once Stassen decided to reenter the political arena.

The decision came as no surprise. Stassen, 50, three times governor of Minnesota, has been sizing up the Pennsylvania picture for months.

He acted against a background of increasing disagreement with Secretary of State Dulles over disarmament policy and negotiations with the Russians.

Pennsylvania is Stassen's adopted state, as it is Eisenhower's. After being elected governor of Minnesota three times he resigned during his last term to enter the Navy in World War II. After the war he served as president of the University of Pennsylvania.

In 1956, Stassen touched off a political furore with his vain attempt to block renomination of Vice President Nixon. Eisenhower took no side publicly but granted Stassen's request for a leave of absence as disarmament adviser in order to devote full time to trying to dump Nixon.

Young's Death Blamed On Financial Problem

NEW YORK, Feb. 15—(AP)—A long-time friend and financial ally of Robert Young today singled out the economic problems of the railroads as a cause of the financier's recent suicide.

Allan P. Kirby, chairman of the board of the Alleghany Corp., said: "I think this—Young's—death was caused because he was particularly unhappy over the railroad situation as a whole and the New York Central in particular, which was his baby."

Students Suspended In Connection With Effort To Start School Fire

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 15 (AP) — Two students, one white and one Negro, were under five day suspension today in connection with an attempt to start a fire in the Central Junior High School.

The incident was the latest in a series of hoodlum acts which have plagued the Kansas City school system.

James Woods, 30, a teacher at the school, said he was standing outside his classroom when he saw five youths enter a rest room at the school. Suspicious actions of various of the boys caused him to follow them a few minutes later. He said a lookout posted at the rest room door shouted a warning but he ran in fast enough to catch the two boys in an apparent attempt to set fire to a container half filled with waste paper.

Woods said the Negro told Principal Ray Hailey that the other boys had threatened to beat him up if he did not start the fire.

Names of the boys were not made public.

Solicitation Control Plan Is Published

A solicitation control program has been compiled and published by the business relations division of the Chamber of Commerce, of which Jess Brown is director and Virgil Corson was director for the two years previous, and on which both have worked. This issue was compiled in order that the general public, as well as groups and individuals may be informed regarding the proper procedures governing the requests for solicitation approval.

On the back of the publication are things not to do, entitled "How Not To Get Took" in 12 easy lessons. They are as follows:

1. Don't deal with a solicitor until you have secured the facts from your solicitations committee.
2. Never pay in cash. Don't make checks payable to the solicitor. Get the name and address of the treasurer and mail the check.
3. Don't rely entirely on a credential or list of subscribers. Lists may lie.
4. Don't believe everything the solicitor says just because he or she makes a good impression.
5. Don't contribute or buy just because you recognize the name of the organization.
6. Don't lend your name to anything without first learning the facts.
7. Don't sign for anything unless you know all the facts.
8. Don't under any circumstances contribute just to get rid of the solicitor.
9. Don't pay for advertising in advance but demand proof of publication.
10. Don't sign subscription lists. They may not always be honest.
11. Don't give or agree to give any contributions or agree to any advertising or the purchase of tickets over the 'phone.
12. Don't be afraid to say "No."

Social Security Insurance Plan Is Set Up For Family Benefits

By Thomas F. Nash
District Manager

For the past two days we have examined the question of whether it's fair to say that people think of social security as a "bargain-counter" proposition — and if not, how they should regard it.

I have discussed survivors insurance as a business proposition to protect the family. Then I reviewed why it is that in the early years of the social security program it is necessary and desirable to pay substantial benefits to people reaching retirement age, even though they may have paid only a relatively small amount of taxes.

Now let's take a look at someone who was much younger when the social security program started. Let's consider our neighbor, Joe Johnson, who was 21 years old and just married in 1937. Social security taxes were taken from the first pay he earned after his marriage, and he and his employer have paid those taxes every payday for the last 21 years.

Joe Johnson and his wife have two children, a girl born in 1939, and a boy in 1953. Sis is 18 years old today; she'll never receive any social security benefits as a survivor child and if Dad is lucky, Joe Jr., who's now 4 years old, will reach 18, too, without becoming an orphan. But look at the protection the family has had through these years and will have for years to come. If Joe had died, the monthly child's and widow's benefits payable on his social security account would have amounted to thousands of dollars over the years. If he had become totally disabled, benefits would have been paid to him from age 50 to 65.

Joe has been paying social security taxes for this protection, but his family has been lucky, it hasn't collected a cent.

Now Joe will be continuing to pay social security taxes for a long time. He has 23 years to go before he's 65, (the legal retirement age) and maybe 30 years before he's really ready to quit work. He's paying a tax of 2¼ per cent on his wages up to a maximum of $4200, and his employer pays a like amount. This tax rate, according to a schedule written into the social security law, will go up in 1960 and at five-year intervals thereafter until 1975, when it will level off at 4½ per cent each for the worker and the employer.

Now if Joe had started a bank account in 1937 and deposited in that account each payday the same amount that he has paid in social security tax contributions, that bank account, including interest earned at the rate of 2½ per cent, would amount to $6200 by Joe's 65th birthday in 1981. So $6200 is the value of the social security tax contributions he will have made over the years.

Beginning in 1981, he will be eligible to receive monthly retirement benefits at the rate of $108.50, and based on average mortality experience, he can expect to be paid a total of about $13,500. The value of the benefits payable to Joe's wife, in wife's and widow's benefits, again based on average mortality experience is $9400.

So, Joe will get back $7300 more in retirement benefits than he will have paid in. $6200 of the difference will be made up with the matching tax contributions (including interest) that his employer has been making over the years. The rest of his benefits and the benefits payable to his wife will come from the tax contributions made on the earnings of workers who have died early without leaving survivors because, just as in private insurance, Joe has been pooling his risks with the risks of many others.

Joe will get back more than he pays in because he came under the old-age and survivors insurance program before it was mature — and paid taxes at a very low rate for many years.

But let's look now at the case of his son, Joe, Jr. Joe Jr. will be starting to work under social security in about 1975, the year when the maximum tax rate of 4½ per cent of wages will become effective. Will the value of the benefits payable to him when he retires 45 or 50 years after 1975 equal the value of the tax contributions he will have made during his working lifetime?

Well, suppose we presume that Joe Jr., like his father, earns the maximum amount of wages subject to the social security tax from the beginning through the end of his working lifetime. By the year 2018 when he is 65, the value of his social security tax contributions of $4200 in every year, if deposited in a bank at 2½ per cent interest, would be $14,200. For these contributions, he will have received life insurance protection for his family (because we are presuming that he will marry and have children). In addition, in the year 2018 he will have retirement income insurance worth $13,500, plus the value of the benefits which will be payable to his wife, both while he is living, and after his death, if she survives him.

So you can see that Joe Jr. will have paid for his own benefits and will have paid only $700 toward the total benefits of $9400 payable to his wife. The remaining cost of the benefits payable to his wife can be thought of as coming partly from the taxes paid on the earnings of those who have died before retirement, or without survivors, and partly from the value of the social security taxes Joe Jr.'s employers have paid on his earnings.

In summary: the social security program is soundly financed to pay all future benefits without any increases in taxes over those already scheduled in the law. On the long haul, social security is a business-like system that pays its own way — not a bargain counter bonanza by any means. It is, on the contrary, a means of providing working people and their families with life insurance protection, disability protection, and retirement protection on a real business basis that pays its own way.

Review Their Achievements

The theme of the Mid-Winter Conference of the Women of the Moose held recently in Sedalia at the Moose Home was "Our Glorious Past and Brilliant Future."

Gertrude Head read an interesting paper detailing the growth and achievements of the Order from its inception to the present. Changes in the ritualistic work, giving chairmen a more prominent part, were pointed out by the speaker. as among the many progressive developments of the past year.

The members and guests were welcomed by graduate regent, Gertrude Samuels, and Virginia Luther, Sedalia, responded for the chapter.

There were 19 new members initiated.

An interesting and instructive arrangement of "steps" showing the honors one may receive in the Women of the Moose organization, drew much comment and helped to simplify the aims of the chapter.

On the first step, a doll dressed in a pretty formal represented the new member. The second step held a doll dressed in blue, symbolic of the co-worker whose interest and work for the chapter has made her a member of the "Academy of Friendship." The third step held the lovely "Queen of Sponsors." To compete for this honor, the co-worker must first have sponsored 15 new members. On the final step was a doll in black cap and gown, symbolizing the "College of Regents." This is an honorary title conferred on senior regents whose chapters have had outstanding records of accomplishments during her term of office.

Virginia Luther, dressed the dolls and arranged the attractive display.

A luncheon was served to members and guests following the meeting.

The Blue Notes furnished music for dancing during the remainder of the evening.

Use flag colors in decor if you'd like a different, but feminine background for your bedroom. Try red, white and blue—with stripes.

Use wide, sky blue and white stripes on the walls, white wall-to-wall carpeting and flag red velvet on furniture painted white and gold.

White draperies trimmed in gold bullion fringe, the kind worn as epaulets on Military dress uniforms, will give a "capitol" outlook.

COTTON DRESSES

Cotton dresses for spring and summer are in the stores in all their glory. The new fabrics have been improved upon, new shades are being shown in smart combinations and the styles extremely wearable. For those who want the "new look" they are available. Gay floral prints are, of course, unusually good this season in all fabrics and in blouses and skirts as well as dresses. They always have a real feminine look that we especially like for summer. Cotton and silk combinations continue to be smart for extra-special things and the dacron-cotton combination ideal for the pretty, pastel dressier dresses. Polished cottons are prettier than ever and they are so pretty after many launderings. Woven seersucker, too, is being shown and in the more tailored styles it is especially good. Colors in it are pink, blue and black. Sheer cottons for a little later are prettier than usual. The selection in drip-dry fabrics is fabulous, so shop now for your early wardrobe. You can find exactly what you want and the cream of the crop arrives early you know.

Narrator Is Native

Club Takes Musical Tour Of Two European Countries

The Helen G. Steele Music Club visited Germany and Italy on the "Around the World Tour" Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Heard Memorial Club House.

The narrator on Germany was Miss Millie Froehling, a native of that country. Miss Froehling told of the differences in America and Germany. Every German, she said, is a music fan, and without even thinking about it people learn to love good music.

Following the talk by Miss Froehling, Mrs. Melvin Gulick sang the lovely Ich liebe dich by Grieg, accompanied by Mrs. G. B. Carter. Mrs. Jewel Harter Thomas and Mrs. William Hurt at the two pianos played "Jesu" (Joy of Man's Desiring) by Bach and "Contre Dance" by Beethoven.

Mrs. Louis Lingle of Windsor was the narrator on Italy. Mrs. Lingle has been in Italy a number of times and made her audience feel they were really on tour with her. Through her eyes they looked at the ruts in the street of Pompeii, floated down the streets of Venice and attended the opera in Rome.

Following Mrs. Lingle's talk on Italy Harold Johnson, concertmaster of the Sedalia Symphony and music instructor at Smithton, played: "Intermezzo" from Cavalleria Rusticana by Mascagni as an encore, La Cinquaintaine by Marie-Gabrielle. He was accompanied by Mrs. Carl Schrader, music instructor at Smith-Cotton.

Guides for the tour were Mrs. Olen Monsees, Mrs. N. B. Patton and Mrs. R. J. Hausam.

Mrs. Monsees thanked Mrs. Lingle and Mrs. Russell Peck for the lovely display of articles from Italy and Germany on display in the hall.

S-C Tigers Falter In Second Half; Hannibal Takes 63-54 CMC Victory

Bengals Hold 5-Point Lead At Halftime

Free Throw Slump Costs S-C as They Miss In Late Minutes

The Smith-Cotton Tigers outplayed Hannibal's Pirates during the first half Friday night, but the towering Pirates recuperated after the intermission to score a decisive 63-54 Central Missouri Conference victory over the Bengals. The game was played on the Tigers' hardwood.

The loss gives Smith-Cotton a 9-12 season record and a 3-5 conference mark.

John Middleton carried the load for the Tigers during the first half as he hit for seven field goals, five of them in the first quarter, to lift the host team to a 35-30 halftime lead. Middleton accounted for a total of 19 points for the game to lead the Tigers in the scoring department. Marshal Bryan was next with ten markers.

However, the Pirates were not to be denied as 6-foot-5 center Howard took charge of the backboards and Brown gave the offensive boost to turn the halftime deficit into a 47-42 lead at the end of the third quarter. The Hannibal team has a height average of 6-feet-3½.

The Tigers battled back in the final frame to knot the score with two and a half minutes to go. Then came a fouling spree in which the Pirates accounted for eight of their last ten points. The Tigers had about the same number of chances from the free throw line at that stage of the game, but the Bengals could not find the bucket and Hannibal pulled into a ten point lead.

Brown led the Pirates' offensive with 22 points and Sanders and Howard contributed 14 and 12, respectivley.

Again Friday night the crowd was treated to seeing some of next year's prospects play in varsity competition, and the sight was pleasing. Bob Vedder, who shows promise as a post player, didn't let up and played a good game, shooting and rebounding successfully against the towering Pirates throughout most of the second half. Nicky Nichols also saw action in the second half as did Bob Garrison.

The Tigers' next game will be Tuesday night when they meet Kemper's Yellow Jackets on the local court. In a previous meeting this season, Smith-Cotton lost to Kemper, 53-52, on the Yellow Jackets' court.

Oklahoma State Chosen to Play In NCAA Tourney

NEW YORK, Feb. 15—(AP)—Oklahoma State, operating as an independent this year, today was selected to play in the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s 20th basketball tournament.

The Cowboys, who withdrew from the Missouri Valley Conference but do not become a full fledged member of the Big Eight until next year, were named as an at-large team by the Western Tournament Committee headed by Roy S. Keene of Oregon State.

The draw calls for sixth ranked Oklahoma State to meet another at-large team to be selected. The dates are either March 10, 11 or 12 at a site to be announced. The winner will advance to the Midwest finals at Lawrence, Kan., against the winner of the Southwest Conference.

Oklahoma State, national champion in 1945 and 1946 is entering its seventh NCAA title event. Only Kentucky has been in more. The Wildcats have played in nine.

Coach Hank Iba's defensive-minded team won 16 of its first 18 games. The Cowboys lost the season's opener to Kansas and later squared the series and also were upset by Houston. Among their victories are decisions over Cincinnati and Bradley.

After 22 Wins

Knob Noster Ends Concordia Streak

Larry Draper, Knob Noster's sophomore sensation, dropped in a long, looping jump shot in the sudden death overtime period Friday night and the Concordia Orioles, Central Missouri's last undefeated basketball titan, saw their splendid 22 game victory streak shatered.

The odds seemed to indicate that the Panthers needed more than a miracle to knock-off Coach Artie Elwell's sharpies, but the Knob Noster quintet again proved it was capable of meeting and defeating a tremendous challenge—as they had done against College High of Warrensburg on two earlier occassions this season. After suffering two embarrassing losses in the Concordia tourney last week, the home court victory had extra sweetness for Coach Dwight Hensley's upset-minded Panthers.

The intense battle featured some weired aspects, particularly after the end of regulation play. During the first two overtime periods, neither team managed to score. When sudden death rules went into effect, each club flubbed cautious opportunities until Concordia's Paul Holstein connected with a lay up. Normally, that would have meant curtains for the Panthers, but Holsten was called on a charging violation in the process of shooting and Alvin Werneke, with a one-and-one situation, sank both the foul shot and the bonus toss to save the day for Knob Noster, and continue the "sudden death" battle. It ended a minute later when Draper zeroed in with his 15 footer from the side.

A strong first half in the conservatively played fray enabled the the Panthers to push the game into overtime. During the first period Knob Noster commanded a lead that reached 10 points at one stage and at intermission the home towners were on top, 17-12.

Early in the third period the Orioles slipped into the lead and appeared to be headed for their 23rd straight, but the Panthers managed to keep close.

With only two seconds left and time out called, the Panthers were down, 29-27. Taking the ball at mid-court after a strategy conference, little Jim Rehkop fired a spectacular desperation effort—and partisan hesteria broke loose as the ball swished through the net while the final buzzer blasted. Then came the breath taking overtime struggle.

Draper led Knob Noster's attack with 13 points, but it took the fantastic clutch shooting by Rehkop and Werneke to keep the Panthers in contention. The Panthers' elated coach, Dwight Hensley, declared, "It was a great team effort and the boys deserved their reward."

On the other side, the bewildered Orioles maintained their fine sportsmanlike composure and coach Artie Elwell praised the Panthers' effort. He said, "It just wasn't our night, but the big ones are still coming in the regional tournament."

Concordia edged the Knob Noster B team in the crowd pleasing preliminary battle, 40-39. Down 36-31 after three quarters, the young Panthers staged a determined rally in the final quarter, but couldn't overhaul the visitors.

Carol Heiss Cops Third Figure Skating Crown

PARIS, Feb. 15—(AP)—Carol Heiss of Ozone Park, N. Y., Miss Personality of the ice, skated off with her third world figure skating championship tonight with a perfectly executed freestyle exhibition.

The New York Miss added to her lead in the final round after having built up an almost insurmountable advantage in the compulsory figures which were completed earlier today.

So precise was Miss Heiss' skating tonight that she turned the 12,000 spectators in the Paris Sports Palace into a cheering, foot-stamping mob.

"I'm so happy, I'm so happy," she said after her victory as she skated into the arms of her coach, Pierre Brunet of New York, with tears streaming down her cheeks.

The critical and eagle-eyed judges also thought that it had been an amazing and seldom-seen performance.

Judging is done on a scale in which six represents a seldom-achieved perfection. Not one of the nine judges rated Miss Heiss at less than 5.7. Three of the judges gave the 18-year-old ice queen a rating of six.

David Jenkins of Colorado Springs, Colo., also got extraordinarily high results from the judges last night when he won the men's figure skating championship. But Jenkins commanded only one accolade of six.

Sports Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

THE pattern has been cut and the work has started putting it together—that is a Table Tennis Club in Sedalia affiliated with the United States Table Tennis Association. The start began a week ago when the Sedalia Lions Club combined the tennis tournament with their basketball tournament.

It was a little odd having these two tournaments together, and some of the fans so expressed themselves at the time. But as the tournament advanced, it became more and more interesting and, in fact, new fans of the sport were made.

Ping pong as most people know the sport hasn't been too appealing to the average person who has seen friends playing, not in what one would say stiff competition. The tournament brought this out and it was proven on the tables on the Horace Mann basketball court, it was somewhat more of an art than just hitting a ball back and forth.

So much interest was brought out by the tournament that the majority of the players began discussing the organizing of a club. Their talk reached the ears of those sitting on the sidelines and a number asked if they too could join. Now the plans are in the making.

A meeting is scheduled for 2 o'clock this afternoon at Horace Mann School gym. A full explanation on the organizational plan will be given by Bob Fingland. It is open for both men and women who care to either hear the plan or join.

For those who cannot attend this meeting information can be obtained from Cliff Barr, George Thompson, Kenneth Buchholtz, Tom Delph, Dick Esser, W. C. Ream or Fingland.

—o—

TROUT season isn't open, but a trout was caught out of season by Haskell Cook and the evidence is no longer. It has already been through the frying pan and devoured by the Cook family. It was a "dinger" as it was told to me.

But Conservation Agents, don't get excited. It wasn't caught on a hook and line. It was just plainly caught beside the highway, on West 50, to be exact, across from the Kennie Miller Real Estate office, several days ago.

This is how I heard the story. Cook was looking out the office window. Oh yes, it was after the recent snow storm and it had started to warm up and the snow melting. A little puddle formed beside the highway from the melting snow.

All of a sudden Cook saw something flipping about. The water wasn't deep enough for a fish to swim in, only to get a fairly good job of exercising. After watching it for several minutes, Cook went to investigate. Yes, it was a trout, a nice big one, enough to give four persons a fair share of trout meat.

Well, Cook didn't dive in, but he did have several slippery minutes in making his catch, (hand fishing) then removed it to his home where it was cleaned and hurriedly placed in the refrigerator.

The only explanation was a truck loaded with trout must have passed by sometime and this one particular trout made its escape to the little puddle beside the road. What a mistake that was.

Anyway, the trout tasted rather good, say members of the family, in or out of season.

Calhoun Wins Over Montrose Five 54-50

The Calhoun Eagles scored a 55-50 Golden Valley Conference victory over Montrose Saturday night behind the 22 point production of Gary Bradley. The game was played on the Calhoun court.

The Eagles grabbed a 32-22 halftime lead, then held off a third quarter rally as Montrose cut the deficit to 41-36 at the end of the third quarter. The teams played on even terms through the final frame.

Schnedding led Montrose with 15 points.

Tim Tam Triumphs In Everglades Stakes

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 15—(AP)—Calumet Farm's Tim Tam and Kentucky Pride finished one-two in the $31,550 Everglades Stakes at Hialeah Park today and showed the stable has another powerful hand for the Kentucky Derby and other rich races coming up.

Ramsey, Russell Lift Boston Over Warriors

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15—(AP)—Frank Ramsey and Bill Russell took care of the offensive and defensive duties respectively as the Boston Celtics handed the Philadelphia Warriors a 110-96 defeat at Convention Hall today in a nationally televised National Basketball Association game.

Ramsey had one of his finest scoring games connecting with 35 points on nine field goals and 17 out of 19 free throws to the dismay of 5,142 fans.

Russell was terrific on defense. He blocked numerous shots and grabbed 35 rebounds to trigger the Celtics' fast-breaking attack.

He also came through with 18 points.

The third big man in the Boston victory was Bob Cousy with 24 points and 11 assists.

The Celtics' victory evened the season's series with the Warriors at five each.

Husker Equals World Mark In 60 Yard Dash

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 15—(AP)—Keith Gardner of Nebraska equalled the world's record in the 60 yard dash today as the Cornhuskers won a spectacular indoor Big Eight dual track meet from Oklahoma, 54 2/3 to 49 1/3.

Some 1,750 fans saw Gardner, who competed for his native Jamaica in the last Olympics, win the 60 yard sprint in 6.1 seconds, set a meet and stadium records with a 7.3 time in the high hurdles and tie the meet record in the 60 yard lows with 6.8.

Four other meet records fell.

Despite his time in the 60 yard dash Gardner was hard pressed by Oklahoma's Dee Givens.

While Nebraska outscored the Sooners 42 to 26 on the track, the Sooners were best in field events by a 23 1/3 to 12 2/3 margin.

Round Table Ties World Mark In Win

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 15—(AP)—Round Table ran to his fourth successive stakes triumph and tied the world record for a mile and one-eighth today in a smashing victory in the $56,400 San Antonio Handicap.

Cheered on by a crowd of 50,000, the 4-year-old Round Table subdued eight rivals in comparative ease in flashing the distance with a clocking of 1.46 4/5.

Reaffirming his stature as the horse to beat in the $100,000 added Santa Anita Handicap two weeks hence, Round Table and his artistic pilot, Willie Shoemaker, came in first by three and one-half lengths over a long shot, Mystic Eye, with Promised Land third and Porterhouse fourth.

The odds on favorite, Round Table returned $2.90, $2.70 and $2.70. Mystic Eye, an Arizona horse with one eye, got up for second and a payoff of $15.60 and $9.30.

Mrs. E. D. Jacobs' Promised Land paid $5.10 for the shot spot.

The time equalled the world mark shared by Noor, Alidon, Swaps and Gen. Duke.

And Round Table did it by spotting the field 12 or more pounds, and winning just about when Shoemaker asked him.

The sturdy bay son of Princequillo carried 130 pounds, as against 108 for Mystic Eye, 116 for Promised Land and 118 for Porterhouse.

The victory was worth $33,300 to Round Table's owner, Travis M. Kerr of Oklahoma and Beverly Hills, and brought his lifetime earnings to $803,264.

It also elevated him to the turf's sixth place of all-time money winners, replacing Alfred Vanderbilt's Native Dancer, who retired with $785,240 to his credit.

Johnston Pushes Dave Marr In Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 15—(AP)—Dave Marr barely clung to his lead in the $15,000 Texas Open today before the mighty rush of slender Bill Johnston of Provo, Utah, who shot a 5-under-par 66 to move within a single stroke of the top.

Brackenridge Park's 6,490 yards with the first good weather of the finally got a terrific hammering tournament and Johnston led the way with a round that left the crowd-and Marr-breathless. His 66 gave him 206 for 54 holes.

Marr, the Houston, Tex., boy who plays out of Cedarhurst, Long Island, for two days held a 6-stroke lead. But he found that even par, as he shot yesterday, wouldn't get the job done for long. His 71 today gave him 205.

Two 66's—Bob Goalby of Darien, Conn., got the other one—seven 68's ten 69's and nine 70's brought one of the biggest par-wrecking days of recent years. Eight players pulled to within five strokes of the faltering Marr.

Tied at 210 were Goalby, Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., Ed Griffiths of Youngstown, O., Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., Walker Inman Jr., of Bolton, Mass., and Bo Wininger of Odessa, Tex.

Tigers Run Season Mark Up to 15-6

Hubbard's high scoring Tigers, bouncing back from a 100-86 shellacking at the hands of Cole Camp last Tuesday night, whipped the floundering Sacred Heart Gremlins 74-66 Friday night on the Tigers' court. The victory was Hubbard's 15th win against six losses for the season.

Both teams used a well balanced scoring attack as four Hubbard players hit for the double figure column and three Gremlins followed suit with Don Ressel, Sacred Heart's potent jump shot artist, topping all scoring with 26 points.

Coach Palmer Nichols crew handled the ball in fine fashion through the first quarter to take a 21-18 lead at the end of the period. However, the fast moving Tigers quickly erased the deficit as they returned in the second frame to take a 33-30 halftime lead. Hubbard continued to dominate the game through the third quarter as they padded their lead with 20 points to lead 53-43 at the end of the period.

Sacred Heart made a desperation bid to overtake the host team in the final frame as the Gremlins netted 25 points, but they could not check Hubbard's offensive and the Tigers accounted for 21.

Charles Buford and Leroy Johnson led Hubbard's attack with 13 points each and Gene Sims and Burl Jones contributed 12 and 10 respectively. John Martin backed up Ressel with 16 points and Terry Menefee added 12.

Both teams hit exceptionally well from the free throw line as Hubbard tanked 7 of 8 attempts and Sacred Heart hit 14 of 17.

EAST LANSING, Mich., Feb. 15—(AP)—Michigan State whipped Illinois 69-56 in a regionally televised game here this afternoon and grabbed undisputed possession of first place in the Big Ten basketball race. The Illini failed to make a basket until midway in the first half.

The MSU Spartans now have a 6-5 conference record after previously sharing the Big Ten lead with Indiana at 5-3 each. The Hoosiers get a chance to challenge in a game Monday night with Ohio State at Indiana, but Michigan State could stay on top depending on the outcome of its game with Michigan the same night.

Illinois dropped to the Big Ten bottom with a 3-6 record.

The young and improving Houstonia Shamrocks gave an indication of what opponents can expect next season when they topped Mercy Academy of Marshall, 54-48, at Houstonia.

Freshman Archie Shireman and junior Ray Haley scored 14 points apiece to lead the victory. Fox netted 19 points for Marshall.

Sweet Springs, playing the B team game, walloped Houstonia, 45-30. Dufield poked in 22 for Sweet Springs and Fitzerald got eight for Houstonia.

Calhoun Drops 67-52 Decision to Chilhowee

The Calhoun Eagles suffered their ninth setback of the season Friday night, dropping a 67-52 decision to the Chilhowee Indians. After turning in an excellent performance during the first half of play, the Eagles went cold in the final two periods and watched helplessly as the hot shooting Tribe raced away with the win.

At the end of the initial quarter Calhoun led, 16-13 and at halftime they held on to the margin, 31-28. Chilhowee squeezed into the lead after three quarters, 40-39, and with deadly shooting in the final quarter the Indians fired in 27 counters to win going away.

Gary Bradley was top scorer for Calhoun with 19 points, followed by Mike Egbert's 17 point contribution. For Chilhowee, Bolzin tanked 28 for the game's scoring honors.

In the preliminary B team game, Calhoun chalked up a 43-34 decision after being held to an 11-11 draw during the first quarter.

With Jerry Hartman enjoying another point productive evening, the Cards moved ahead in the first period, 19-15, but yielded the command in the second quarter and trailed at halftime, 31-30. Again in the third quarter the Mustangs outscored Tipton and boosted their lead to 48-40. The Cardinals made a game effort to overcome the disadvantage in the final frame, but were unable to move closer than five points against Eldon's effective man-to-man defense.

Globetrotters Battle Spahs At CMSC Gym

"It's the finest Harlem Globetrotters team in years."

Author of that statement is Abe Saperstein himself, the owner, founder and coach of the fabulous basketball team, which is to play the Philadelphia Spahs in Morrow Gymnasium at Warrensburg's Central Missouri State College Tuesday night in a showdown meeting of the two oldest professional quintets in point of continuous existence.

The game is being sponsored by the Warrensburg Rotary Club.

This season is the fortieth in succession for the Sphas, the thirty-first for the Trotters.

Their clash will headline a spectacular program, starting at 8:00 p. m., that also will include a number of the greatest music hall acts, assembled by Saperstein from all parts of the world to entertain the fans both before the start of the game and at the half.

The Sphas again are strong, a throwback to their teams of several decades ago when they ruled the roost in professional basketball; the accompanying artists are skillfully talented—but, as always, it's the Globetrotters with their brilliant basketball, unmached comedy and sublime razzle dazzle who will be drawing the customers through the turnstiles. They are the most fabulous sports draw in the world, as huge attendance in the more than fifty countries in which they have played attests.

Saperstein is high on his current aggregation, collectively and individually. "The team has everything," he says, height, speed, scoring power and individual brilliance.

Tickets for the game may be obtained at the Johnson County Mutual Insurance Company office or from any member of the Rotary Club.

City Bowling Tourney Ends Today; Hazell Keeps Title

The Tenth Annual Men's City Bowling Tournament will wind-up today with three flights of singles contenders and three flights of doubles teams slated for action. In Saturday night's activity, 34 doubles teams and 53 contenders for the singles championship completed tournament play. A total of 74 doubles teams and 120 singles aspirants entered this phase of the two-week tourney.

HAZELL DEFEATS McCURDY

Johnny Hazell made his second successful defense of the "Bowling at Broadway" match championship Friday night, defeating Hughesville's Bob McCurdy by 53 pins. Both bowlers probably would be pleased to forget Friday night's performances. Hazell and McCurdy are teammates on the Broadway Lanes traveling team and carry over-all averages which put them in Sedalia's top ten rating. However, Friday night just wasn't their night as Hazell claimed the victory on a 549 series and McCurdy managed only a 496.

After trailing most of the first game, McCurdy found the range in the late frames and pulled out an eight pin victory with a medicore 162 game. Hazell, a business-like performer, pitched three straight strikes to start the second game and went on to trounce McCurdy, 202-164. In the third set McCurdy started with a double, followed with two spares and another strike in the fifth in an effort to overhaul the defending champ, but his game fell apart in the seventh and eighth frames when he failed to pick-up routine spare shots, and in the ninth frame when he was unable to convert a split. Hazell, sizing up the situation, began to come from behind in the sixth frame with a strike. He managed to mark in each remaining frame to win the final game, 193-170.

For the match, Hazell had eleven strikes, 16 spares, four splits and one blow. McCurdy managed only seven strikes, 14 spares, with four splits and a conversion, and six errors.

Hazell's opponent next week will be Captain John Larma of Whiteman Air Force Base. Captain Larma rolled a 612 to qualify.

The Needle, Dr. Watson!

Looking toward the future of industrial Sedalia the Retail Merchants division and the Industrial Development division of the Chamber of Commerce held a meeting last July to discuss the matter.

From this and subsequent meetings came plans for a campaign to raise funds for construction of manufacturing buildings for new industries, and creation of the Sedalia Improvement Association as a means to this end.

The kick-off of the campaign occurred last November. Since then there have been numerous other year-end distractions and holiday events which left the fund raising project in a state of suspended animation.

The Industrial Development Division reports that to date the amount pledged to raise funds for the new Precision Engineering Company building alone is $18,850.00; the amount paid in is $15,-125.00 and the amount needed to complete the building, $44,875.00.

At the outset there seemed to be general agreement everyone would pitch in and help to raise the necessary funds. Results are pathetic, the committee dejectedly reports, but with more affirmation states:

"The job is going to be completed (it has to be)—but it remains to be seen who is going to do it. The Industrial committee feels it can secure the industries if it has support and can get money —and that is everybody's job."

The Industrial Development Corporation idea has caught on in many Missouri cities as well as throughout the nation. Competition for new industry is keen. Missouri is recognized as a favorable state and Sedalia has much to offer in its central location and other natural conveniences. This community cannot afford to lag behind and expect to get anywhere just taking crumbs.

Building a community and creating employment to sustain it is a constantly steady job that can never be accomplished by intermittent grand flourishes.

If Sedalia is working on the wrong idea in seeking new industry, then this is a good season to find out and develop something positive.

The pallid appearance of the present fund-raising project suggests it needs a shot of adrenalin even if the patient needs to be put in a straight jacket to receive it.

This may suggest a consultation of the doctors — the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors.

Harris Now Vows He Will Investigate

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Wayne Morse of Oregon is one of the most versatile, toughest scrappers in the Senate of the United States. One day last week he got up, shaved, ate no breakfast, appeared on the Dave Garroway TV show, then he preached a sermon, "Peace Through Disarmament."

Quoting from Matthew V, "Blessed are the peace makers;" Isaiah II and Micah IV, "Beat their swords into plowshares;" and from Matthew 26-52, "Then Jesus said unto him, 'Put up again thy sword into its place, for all they who take the sword shall perish with the sword'," Morse told his Senate colleagues that Asia feared the United States as much as it feared Russia.

"We are not convincing the world that we are peaceful," Morse said.

"That was a remarkable sermon," commented Senator Dworshak of Idaho, "for one of the toughest fighters I know."

Finishing the prayer breakfast, the senator from Oregon went back to his office. Waiting for him on the telephone was Speaker Sam Rayburn.

"I understand you have some stolen documents of ours," said the Speaker, half-kidding.

"I don't know that the description 'stolen' is correct, but I do have some documents," replied Morse.

He referred to the fact that the previous midnight he had come to his door in pajamas and dressing gown to receive several cartons of confidential files from the House subcommittee on legislative oversight, brought to him by the fired counsel, Dr. Bernard Schwartz.

"I will send the U.S. marshal for them," said the speaker.

"Under this administration, you better send the Army," replied Morse. The Speaker roared.

"We Will Investigate"

They arranged that Morse would be at his apartment to deliver the documents at 12:30 noon. The apartment lobby when he arrived seemed full of photographers and Congressmen, including Chairman Oren Harris of Arkansas and John Flynt of Georgia. They shook hands. Photographers asked Morse if he would carry out the documents so they could take a picture of him.

"I couldn't carry them. They are too heavy."

Congressman Harris asked newsmen to retire so he could talk privately with the senator from Oregon. He told Morse how the man who had first proposed the investigation was Speaker Rayburn and how he, Harris, had had a conference with the Speaker that very morning.

"The country is all stirred up," said the congressman from Arkansas, who hitherto has dragged his feet against a probe, "but I am going to give them an investigation such as they have never seen before. I don't care if it's the executive branch of the government or the Congress. We are going to investigate. We are really going to bring out the facts."

"Yes," chimed in Flynt of Georgia. "We have eight ex-district attorneys, and we know how to investigate."

The two congressmen didn't say so, but it was obvious they had in mind the fact that Morse had already announced he would introduce a resolution to push a special Senate investigation of influence peddling and finagling inside the independent agencies if the House committee fell down, as ex-counsel Schwartz has charged it is doing. Morse did not volunteer that he would withdraw his investigation. He said:

"I am sorry Mrs. Morse isn't here. I can't even offer you some coffee. I hope I can receive you more sociably on other business in the future."

Harris was inquisitive as to the exact time Morse received the secret documents.

"About 11:45 p.m." Morse replied.

Harris looked disappointed. He knew this was before, not after, Dr. Schwartz had been served with a subpoena to produce his documents. Therefore Schwartz could not be found in contempt of Congress.

"How could Schwartz handle all these papers?" Harris asked.

"He didn't. He didn't have anything in his hands. Two newspapermen carried the documents for him."

Morse referred to the fact that Jack Anderson, my assistant, had advised bringing the documents to Senator Morse for safekeeping. The other newsman was Clark Mollenhoff of the Des Moines Register-Tribune.

Backstage With the Diplomats

Russia has promised Red China to install six giant missile bases on the Chinese coast within easy firing range of Formosa. (We are still obligated to go to war in defense of Formosa in case of attack.) . . . It's now a crime in Russia for an artist to paint a portrait of any living Kremlin leader. This strange new decree is supposed to stop another Stalin from overglorifying himself. Khrushchev claims that if one Red leader has more portraits of himself than another, it may lead to friction inside the Kremlin.

Guest Editorial

WALL STREET JOURNAL: The Motivating Drive. Not so long ago the reults of a study of driver motivation were made public and the findings would certainly have been amusing if they hadn't been so potentially dangerous.

The study, sponsored by the American Trucking Association foundation of the Pure Oil company, disclosed that 88 per cent of adult drivers think they are above average when it comes to obeying the law, and 93 per cent believe they are above average when it comes to driving ability. The trouble comes when a couple of these boys meet on the road.

We were, quite frankly, impressed by the study which uncovered some other equally strange motiv.ations. Teen-age drivers are so often told that they are bad drivers that some of them are convinced the silly adults expect them to be; the result is that the dire predicions are made to come true. Another finding was that most of the drivers who think themselves good drivers remain unimpressed by newspaper, radio, magazine and TV campaigns whose target is the bad driver. The warnings and pleas are always considered as for somebody else.

Here is a study that warrants more investigation and, perhaps, will suggest an entirely new approach to traffic safety. What that approach will be, we have no idea. But clearly the old one of warning people about the dangers of driving badly aren't helping much when everybody thinks he drives well. There might be fewer accidents if the other fellow isn't always wrong.

Even more basic to the traffic problem, though, was another finding of the driver motivation study. Most drivers believe traffic law enforcement should be both "flexible" and "judicial" at one and the same time. If that sounds like some sort of automobive schizophrenia, it isn't really; it's only clear evidence of the motivating drive of human nature. For what the driver who says that really means is that the law should be flexible for him, but judicial as all get-out for the other guy. And when that attitude is remedied, a cure will have been found for many more troubles than the traffic problem.

The New Chemise

A chemise was something our grandmothers wore as an undergarment. Now it is the thing to wear on top.

The new chemise is called fashion's newest figure-glorifying line. It is curved to flatter, it skips the waist, narrows the hips and tapers at the hem. That is just fine, providing the figure has the right curves in the right places, no waist to skip, and hips that would not know whether they were narrowed or not.

The mothers and grandmothers who wore the sack dress in the twenties are just as glad that their present curves would not glorify the new chemise. Chances are that the petite figure isn't going to like it for very long, either.

The chemise and the middy blouse type style suggest the flapper age, which is an age many folks would like to forget. Even those women who think they must wear the latest styles would not want many dresses of the chemise type.

Heredity, Exercise and Atherosclerosis

Dr. Wilkinson

Where do we stand in the research fight against mankind's leading health enemy — atherosclerosis, or hardening of the arteries? In support of the February Heart Fund Campaign, four noted authorities have prepared a special progress report on the battle. This dispatch, the third, was written by Dr. Charles F. Wilkinson Jr., professor and chairman, Department of Medicine, New York University Post Graduate Medical School.

By Charles F. Wilkinson Jr., M.D.
N.Y.U. Post Graduate School of Medicine

NEW YORK — In the United States, as throughout the world, medical scientists are devoting much time and study to the factors of heredity and exercise in the development of atherosclerosis, known to laymen as "hardening of the arteries."

As has been told in earlier installments of this series, we are concerned with the process by which the arteries become narrowed, roughened and hardened, setting the stage for such events as heart attacks and strokes. This narrowing starts as a deposit of fatty material, but, as time passes, it takes on a more complex structure and finally is composed of not only fat but also of scar tissue, calcium or lime, and even small blood vessels.

There are two groups of factors that control the development of these deposits, or plaques, their rate of growth and position in the artery. Those that make up the first group are called primary since they occur to some extent in all of us.

These include certain anatomical features of the arteries that expose certain areas to more wear and tear than other areas, causing more thickening to develop. While this wear and tear can explain much, many of us feel that equally important is an inherited tendency to form these plaques faster in some people than in others.

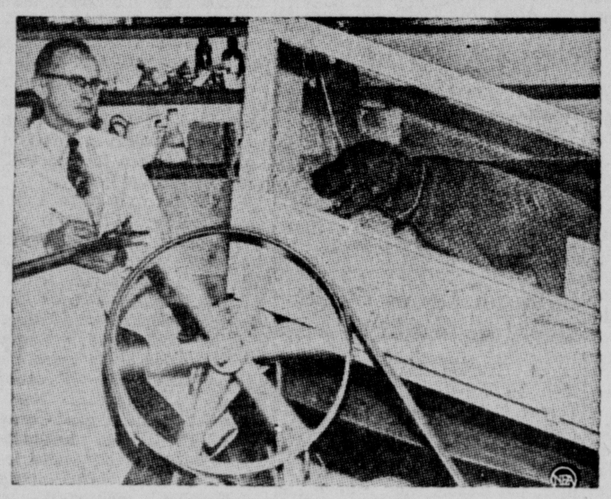
If only primary factors were operating, atherosclerosis would not present a major health problem. Unfortunately, they are often complicated by one or more secondary factors. One of them is hypertension. While not all high blood pressure is due to hreedity, there is no doubt that much of it is.

Other secondary factors are also important and are either known to be, or suspected of being inherited. These include many diseases of metabolism. An excellent example is diabetes, which, before the discovery of insulin, frequently killed people even before atherosclerosis developed.

Some inherited conditions are not evident unless searched for. One is an inherited tendency to show an increase in all blood fats. In its usual and mild form it gives no symptoms, but over the years it does its damage unnoticed. Fortunately, it can be detected early if looked for. It can be effectively treated.

Another is an inherited tendency to show an increase in cholesterol, but not in all the other blood fats. It is probably a secondary factor, but much less important than the first condition.

We do not know all of the inherited secondary factors. Some of them we can treat more effectively than others. Through research in the field of human genetics, much progress has been made. It appears that from this direction much hope for control of atherosclerosis must come.



CORONARY TREADMILL: A dog takes controlled exercise in the laboratory of Dr. Richard W. Eckstein, Western Reserve University, Cleveland, as part of a study of the effect of exercise on coronary artery disease.

Exercise and its relation to atherosclerotic heart disease has been associated with much superstition, misinformation and lack of information.

Let us first consider the effect of exercise upon the heart. Exercise calls for more work to be done by the heart, and this is compensated for by an increased flow of blood through the vessels that feed the heart.

These arteries which feed the heart do not connect with each other, so if one of these vessels is blocked quickly, the muscle which feeds it receives no blood. If, however, the blockage is slow, the heart changes its blood vessel pattern by forming connections between the narrow vessel and another one. These connections cannot be formed rapidly.

If an individual has been taking a relatively constant amount of exercise over a period of years, and has had a slow narrowing of the coronary arteries, it is quite likely that he has formed these connecting vessels. If he has no symptoms with this constant exercise, in all probability his heart has adjusted itself to its needs. This explains why some people of advanced age can be active physically.

Many physicians feel that the important consideration is not so much the amount of exercise that is taken by a person, but rather the way in which this exercise is taken.

Regular and moderate exercise can be beneficial. As one grows older, however, it may be necessary to reduce the amount and type of activity. Exercise taken at infrequent intervals, such as violent sets of tennis played by an office worker during his vacation, can be quite another thing.

How much exercise do people take? How much do they really need? These problems are the subject of considerable research today. Much more study by many scientists will be required before the physician can, with real assurance, proceed with effective rehabilitation of the patient who is suffering from some firm of heart disease.

Next; hypertension.

Grandparents

The grandmas buy a lot of things
The grandpas buy them, too,
And mama finds she has so much
She does't know what to do,
Sometimes they do not know the size,
They pick out what they like
And just forget the youngster still
Is just a little tyke;
Or maybe they buy something
A size or two too small,
For babies grow so fast it seems,
They're hard to fit at all,
Now every toy she looks at
Grandma would like to buy,
And every toy that grandpa buys
He always has to try,
Poor mama finds toys scattered
Across the nursery floor,
The living room—the kitchen—
And yet they still bring more,
Now grandma makes them cookies;
She decorates them, too,
Grandpa buys them candy
And gum for them to chew,
Grandma tells them stories,
For grandma likes to talk
Grandpa takes them in the car
Or for a little walk,
Grandpa answers questions,
The query never ends,
Grandma likes to show them off
A little to her friends,
And if she does not have them
Along with her to show,
She's bound to have their pictures,
Just happened to, you know,
And grandpa tells about them
The cute things that they do
Now that is sure his privilege,
And it is grandma's too,
For when they've raised their children
And all of them are grown,
That next generation
Seems cuter than their own,
They laugh at little things they say,
The joy of them they share.
These youngsters they have time to watch
Without their daily care.

Typical American Abroad Is Friendly to Neighbor

(Editors Note: Our correspondent is on a press tour of the Carribbean.)

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty

CUIDAD, TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic — What the United States needs is more people-with-a-cause and that cause, for the sake of good diplomacy abroad, should be "to sell America."

That's the conviction of a businessman turned diplomat, Joseph Farland, the U. S. Ambassador to the Dominican Republic.

This non-career ambassador, from Morgantown, West Virginia, is practicing what he preaches, using the simple selling technique of being "a typical American" as he goes about representing the President, not only with the all-powerful Generalissimo Trujillo but with "just people he seeks out" far from the glamorous, tourist-happy capital, Cuidad Trujillo.

The ambassador's idea of a "typical American" is a friendly chap who likes baseball and wouldn't think of not trying to understand what makes his next door neighbor tick, even if his politics happen to be different. (His neighbor in this one-man controlled country is the Generalissimo.)

To "sell America" here requires a special approach. Unlike nearby Haiti, this is not an undeveloped country. It's prosperous (the budget is balanced) and the people enjoy good schools, hospitals, clean modern streets, and beautiful buildings. Children can read and write. The old folks can remember the frightening days of 27 years ago "before the Liberator," when there was rioting, disease, poverty, and no security for anyone.

A typical American is repelled by the nasty word dictator, but must admit as he looks around this country that the average man is living well. So he can't "sell America" by talking about the glories of the high standard of living in U.S.A. (Maybe some Americans, if forced to make a choice, would guiltily settle for security rather than chaos, violence and "freedom.")

To sell America here is difficult because the people like the fruits of the status quo, and the man who made it possible. (If a free election were held tomorrow Trujillo would be given a landslide by his grateful people.)

So logically the person to sell is the Generalissimo himself. Having given his people a comfortable way of life, perhaps this energetic man of action will dare, some day as he grows older, to give them real freedom, too. The people here don't miss it because they have never enjoyed it.

Ambassador Farland speaks highly of the cooperation given by the Generalissimo and his government in the routine matters of diplomacy. Of course the Dominicans would like a higher sugar quota and envy the better break given Cuba. (Some 655,000 metric tons of sugar will be sold on world markets this year, but only 50,248 tons to the U.S.A., which pays a higher price.) Problems arising from the erection of a missile base here are easily worked out together.

Even the awkward Murphy murder case may finally be settled with justice, as the Generalissimo ordered an impartial investigation conducted by Morris Ernst. The Ambassador, once an FBI agent, has special value in this crisis.

Never can the U.S.A. afford to overlook the importance of the Generalissimo's fanatic hatred for communism, and his country votes along with the U.S.A. on all anti-communist roll calls in the United Nations. Nor is there any doubt of the military significance of the strategic location of the Caribbean.

So still convinced that one man rule isn't democratic, Americans who stay down here keep voicing the old American credo that the "United States never interferes with the internal politics of another country."

New Features
Keep Kewanee Disk Ahead

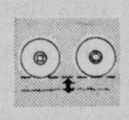
NEW WRAP-AROUND FRAME—New KEWANEE DISK makes it impossible to hook fences or other obstructions. Gangs are supported over their entire length and stay rigid for years of hard disking.



CONSTANT-LEVEL CONTROL—When you change the depth of disking for different soils in the same field, KEWANEE'S Constant-Level Control keeps your disk gangs level or at the exact tilt you set.

BIG HITCH—Bigger—heavier—stronger. New KEWANEE Hitch has wide-angle attaching points—makes disk trail true. Four grease fittings on hitch and hitch clevis protect against wear.

New Council of Catholic Women Established For Jefferson City

The Council of Catholic Women for the Diocese of Jefferson City was formally established Sunday at a meeting of about 500 women at Selinger Center in Jefferson City.

This meeting climaxed a series of six preliminary organizational meetings with a combined attendance of over 1,000 women from the six deaneries of this new Missouri diocese: Boonville, to which Sedalia belongs, Rolla, Mexico, Macon, Hannibal and Jefferson City.

Mrs. J. E. Hurley, Sedalia, and the five other recently chosen presidents of the deanery councils were seated on the large stage with Bishop Joseph M. Marling, the three deans, the Very Rev. Msgrs. Gerold L. Kaiser and Paul U. Kertz and the Right Rev. Msgr. Harold J. Beeler, and five prominent women who were presiding officers and guest speakers.

Sixteen Sedalians attended this meeting. Representing St. Patrick's Parish, in addition to Mrs. Dell Ilmberger and Mrs. Paul Wiemholt, who had also attended the Boonville meeting, were Mrs. Larry Riley, Mrs. Mord Robb, Mrs. Ralph Becker, Mrs. Harold Fitzgerald, Mrs. German Geiser, Mrs. S. M. Hein, Mrs. Harold Gunn, and Mrs. William White. From Sacred Heart Parish there were Mrs. J. E. Hurley, Mrs. Herbert Zoernig, Mrs. Peter Stohr, Miss Mary Helen Mayer, Mrs. John Simmons, Mrs. Charles Sebek, Mrs. Charles Carroll, and Mrs. John L. Riley, regent of the Sedalia Circle of the Daughters of Isabella.

Later in the program, the deanery presidents reported that within two weeks' time, applications for affiliation (accompanied by checks for the $20 affiliation fee) with the Council of Catholic Women had already been received from 88 Catholic women's groups. Mrs. Hurley reported that about 17 per cent of these affiliating groups were from this area, the Boonville deanery.

In addition to the reading and approval of the constitution, the announcement of Diocesan Council officers, the acceptance by Mrs. Phil Dampf, Jefferson City, of the office of Diocesan Council president and musical selections by an 18-voice choir, the Cecelian Singers, there were four addresses.

Msgr. Kaiser, the Diocesan Council spiritual moderator, said that the history of lay women's participation in the work of bringing Christ to the world began with Mary, the Mother of Jesus, and the women mentioned in the Gospels as being with her at the foot of the cross; and referred to the women mentioned in the Epistles and the Acts as being helpers of St. Paul. Without the help of lay people, he said, the church membership could not have grown to an estimated 20 million members by the year 325 A.D.

Mrs. Maurice J. O'Sullivan, Kansas City, second vice-president of the National Council, said that she had come not only to bring greetings and congratulations to this Diocesan Council from the nine million Catholic women in the other 101 Diocesan Councils in the United States, but also as a neighbor who had gone through the 1951 Kansas City flood with Bishop Marling when the Diocesan Council was able to perform remarkable relief operations only because it had been previously so well-organized to carry out the National Council's motto, "For God and Country."

Mrs. O'Sullivan said that tact was needed in the effort to lessen religious tensions and misunderstandings in a community by presenting the reasonableness of the Catholic position on such subjects as censorship of movies and books and magazines, birth control and parochial schools. She mentioned how since the recent disorders in the Kansas City public schools she had been invited to join an official study group to try to explain why the parochial schools had had only rare, isolated instances of disturbances.

Miss Mary Donohue, the national organizational secretary from Washington, D.C., in her talk told of the many aids which the national office could offer those asked to carry out on the parish level the projects selected by the bishop for the women to work on in this diocese. These projects are: spiritual development, learning Christian doctrine, cooperation between home and school, and rural life problems.

Bishop Marling in the final address outlined some of the aspects of these four projects. Spiritual development is, he said, fundamentally an increase of the personal love of the Savior in our hearts. As one means to develop spiritually Bishop Marling urged the regular practice of family prayer—especially the family rosary and for the intention of begging God to send more laborers into the ranks of the priesthood and sisterhood. Later on, he said, proper methods of participation in the public worship in the Mass would be a part of this spiritual development project. In reference to the second project of cooperating in the work of the confraternity of Christian doctrine, the Bishop urged the consistent reading of the diocesan newspaper, the Catholic Missourian. Later discussion club projects will be introduced.

Since the Jefferson City Diocese is essentially a rural diocese, Bishop Marling said that the fourth project for the improvement of Catholic rural life was of the utmost concern to him. In regard to the third project, he pointed out that cooperation between the home and school is most important for the curbing of the present common phenomenon of the lack of interest for law and authority on the part of both parents and children. Lawlessness can ruin us, the Bishop declared. It can make it impossible for our Nation to lead the other nations of the world to a better future.

4-H Round-Up

Project — The Hub of 4-H Wheel

According to Robert S. Clough, State 4-H Club Agent, the 4-H Project is still the hub of the 4-H program. Prior to 1938 the 4-H Project Program and the 4-H Program were virtually one and the same. For the most part, clubs were organized to do a project. When the project was completed the club disbanded to perhaps reorganize in the same manner another year. With the coming of the community type of organization the program was broadened. Whereas, major emphasis had been placed on the head and the hand "H," now emphasis was placed on all four "H's".

Since the community type of organization came into being, major emphasis has been placed on the development of the club program. This means continuous organization with emphasis on health, recreation, activities such as safety, wildlife conservation, and the planning of yearly programs. The use of standing committees has come in for a lot of attention. Some may have concluded that the individual member project is less important than it once was.

Let's emphasize here that the intention of the community type of organization was to add to, not take from, the project work. There's ample evidence to indicate that the project program has grown in quantity and quality consistently through these twenty years of operation under community type of organization.

We may take as one index of this growth the quality and quantity of project exhibits at the Missouri State Fair, the Ozarks Empire Fair, the Cape Girardeau Fair and county shows and fairs all over the state. Actually, many county exhibits of project work today would challenge the state fair exhibits of 30 years ago and wouldn't look too bad in comparison with exhibits 20 years ago.

In the matter of project training that boys and girls receive from project leaders, we would like to call attention to the fact that the average number of project meetings held by the 639 Blue Ribbon Seal Clubs in 1957 was 41.

Many new projects have been added the last 20 years. Significant among these is the 4-H tractor project and the electricity project. These were logical developments as 4-H keeps pace with modern agriculture.

The addition of the beef herd and dairy herd projects is significant. It indicates many members are not content to confine their project efforts to a single animal. The feeding steer project has been added during this period, emphasizing economical production of high grade beef. Toda, we have many 4-H boys producing 100 bushels of corn to the acre. In the cotton section, several boys have produced two bales of cotton to the acre.

Projects added to increase the challenge to upper teenagers include water management, farmstead improvement, farm management and this year, for the first time, a pilot project in soil fertility. The Junior Leadership project has met with high favor from upper teenagers. A new automotive project was introduced last year and piloted in six counties. This year that program is being piloted in a total of ten counties.

Yes, the 4-H project is still the hub of the 4-H program. It's the work phase. It involves demonstrating, judging, exhibiting, showmanship and record keeping. The program had its beginning in project work. Its acceptance by the public has come largely from what people have seen in project achievement. We hope it will continue to be the hub of this youth program now enlarged to meet further the needs of young people.

Sunday Gala Church Day At Versailles

Completion and remodeling and renovation of the sanctuary of the First Christian Church of Versailles, plus improvements in the Sunday School annex and classrooms, and installation of new pews, rugs, and new revised hymnals with maroon bindings to match the color of the choir robes, kicked off a gala dedication of the improved church plant Sunday morning. The pastor for more than ten years, the Rev. James Leslie Freeman, conducted the service, which started ten minutes earlier than customary and included several special songs and instrumental solos.

The pews, rugs and hymnals were the gift to the church of the Rev. Freeman and Mrs. Freeman who are now well into the 11th year in the pastorate at Versailles which began on Oct. 1, 1947, after they had completed 20 years of service to the Tipton Christian Church.

Following the morning service a bountiful buffet style dinner was served to about 150 members and guests. In the afternoon a social session was held in the sanctuary, marked by group singing of hymns, duets by Miss Erma Hodges and Mrs. A. Mendenhall, of Otterville, only daughter of the Freemans, and by Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hodges. Piano numbers by Mrs. Mendenhall, an accomplished pianist, and organ numbers by Mrs. Alma A. Eickhoff, Versailles, were pleasing features of the afternoon program.

A profusion of flowers created a bower of the pulpit rostrum and altar rail.

Guests from other churches in Versailles and surrounding towns augmented the attendance at the dedication at the dinner and afternoon social session that followed. There were a total of 52 register visitors, including the pastors of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist churches of Versailles, and the Methodist Church of Gravois Mills.

Observes Anniversary

The 20th anniversary of the Federal Crop Insurance Corp. was observed in Missouri recently with a meeting of all Missouri employees and representatives at Jefferson City. The meeting was held in the Governor Hotel.

F. Reed Grainger, state director, who is in charge of the state headquarters in Sedalia, presided over the meetings.

Jewish Religion Is Explained to BWC

The business session of the Calvary Baptist BWC was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Monte Welch. Mrs. Ruby Shelledy presided over the meeting. The community mission for the month is to send a sunshine box to Mrs. Rhoda Tidwell, member of the BWC, who has been ill for sometime. A birthday card shower was also planned for her.

Mrs. Edward Cusick, prayer chairman, gave each member prayer cards with names for whom prayer is to be offered. A short devotional was given by Mrs. Cora Williams.

Special music, "In Christ there is no East or West", was sung by Mrs. Ellen Mickens and Mrs. Georgia Merriott.

Mrs. Abe Silverman, guest speaker, was introduced to the circle. She spoke on her religion, "Judaism".

Mrs. Bud Greer was also a guest.

Refreshments were served to the circle and Brotherhood.

1958 Recipe Edition

Life can get pretty tough at times. Here's a young lady all set to whip up some delicious appetizer, with all the ingredients and equipment at both elbows, and what happens? She can't decide which recipe to try out first!

It's an unusual situation, of course, and all in fun, because Mrs. Jack Kraus, 219½ West Seventh, is right at home in the kitchen and can make all that paraphernalia do her every bidding. She's another fan of our Recipe Editions, too.

Won Ten Ribbons

Sedalia Woman Wears Ribbons Won in Many Cooking Contests

Mrs. Charles Patterson, Jr., 1600 West 14th, is one of Sedalia's best cooks and she has ribbons and awards to prove it, although she is too modest to want to prove it. She is certain, she insists, that there are many others who are much better cooks than she.

Nevertheless, she won two baking awards at the Missouri State Fair in 1956 on her cakes and also won the Fleishman's Yeast award. In 1957 she walked off with ten ribbons from the Missouri State Fair in a variety of things which included cakes, pies, biscuits and candy.

Cooking is her hobby and she enjoys it very much. She has her favorite recipes, of course, and she likes to try new ones. Her hobby isn't one of doing something that she can keep around—the results of her hobby has a way of vanishing quickly—with a husband, a son, Charles, 14 years old and a daughter, Bette, seven, but certainly, it is one that her whole family enjoys.

Shortly after she was married, which was 19 years ago, Mrs. Patterson remembers that she worked all morning baking a pie which she ended up throwing in the garbage.

Mrs. Charles Patterson, Jr.

Some things, she confides, that she cooks now never get to the table but that probably doesn't happen very often. Anyway, it is encouraging to new cooks who have failures to know that someone who is an outstanding cook had her troubles to start with, too, and to those who have been cooking for years and still, now and then, don't have things turn out just right—well, it happens to the best of cooks.

Following are two of Mrs. Patterson's favorite recipes:

COWBOY COOKIES

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- ½ teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup shortening
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups rolled oats
- 1 package semi-sweet chocolate bits

Sift together and set aside flour, soda, salt and baking powder. Blend together shortening and sugar, add eggs and beat until light and fluffy. Add flour mixture and mix well. Add rolled oats, vanilla, chocolate. Dough will be crumbly. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Bake 15 minutes at 350 degrees. Makes 11 dozen.

MIDNIGHT CAKE

- ½ cup shortening
- 1¼ cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup hot water
- ½ cup cocoa
- 1½ cup flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream shortening, add sugar gradually and cream until fluffy. Blend in well beaten eggs. Slowly add hot water to cocoa and mix until smooth. Sift flour, salt, soda and baking powder together and add to creamed mixture alternately with the cocoa and water mixture. Blend in vanilla. Pour into 8 inch square pan, 2½ inches deep which has been greased and lined with paper. Bake 50-55 minutes in moderate oven (350 degrees).

SOUR DILL PICKLES

Mrs. O. D. Raines
Route 2, Nelson, Missouri.

3 quarts water
2 quarts vinegar
1 cup salt

Heat this mixture to the boiling point. Slice large cucumbers in two the long way. Pack in sterilized jars. Pour hot mixture over them and seal.

Cooks who like a soft crust on their yeast bread brush the loaves with melted butter as soon as they are turned out of their pans, then they cover the bread with a towel for a few minutes.

For a shiny-topped pie, brush the top crust with milk before baking; for a top glace brush the crust with egg yolk mixed with a little water.

Mrs. Virginia Borne

Early Start Gives Expert Cook Chance to Learn Her Job Well

"Virginia can cook anything," a neighbor of Mrs. W. G. Borne', 1815 South Kentucky, once said, "and I can get the recipe from her, follow directions exactly, but it never comes out like hers."

Virginia lived with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hill, and two bachelor uncles, Bob and Sam. She says the first remembrance she has is of a hillside covered with bright spring flowers and the second is the preparation of food for an Easter dinner, followed by an Easter egg hunt. So, from the very first, she seemed to be interested in what it takes to make a meal.

In the nest that day was a pink and white checked egg. When she was a little girl, Virginia says, yard goods were not vat-dyed. Material was sewed around hard-boiled eggs, then dipped in hot salt water, dried, materials removed and the eggs polished with butter.

It was her job as a little girl, Mrs. Borne' says, to wash and prepare vegetables for serving and it seemed as though there were bushels of vegetables every day. Everybody made their own salad at the table and there was a regular chorus of cutting the large helping of lettuce. Over this they sprinkled chopped radishes, onions, a little sugar and vinegar, salt, pepper and bacon drippings, and, she says, this is still one of her favorite salads.

When she was a junior in Smith-Cotton she took cooking under Miss Tillie Snell and she had a real interest. The family encouraged her and allowed her to prepare the evening meal at home. She says her mother, Mrs. Maud Ford, still reminds her of the time she dashed gaily off to a party leaving only a small panful of cream of tomato soup for the five hungry people. Well, after all, that had been the cooking lesson that day and so she tried it out, but she didn't take time to prepare anything else.

Her most valuable lessons, she believes, came from her four aunts, Mrs. Robert Hill, Mrs. Robert Lee, Mrs. Rex Hutchings and Mrs. B. P. Hunnell, who all felt organization in the kitchen was a necessity. They stressed absolute cleanliness, definite tastiness, eye appeal, boldness in experimenting. They even believed in the medieval custom of using flowers in cooking, holding the thought that the use of flowers "maketh a man merrie and joyful, putteth away all melancholie and madness." King Charlemagne's diet is said to have included violet fritters, pickled rosebuds and lavender aspic, said Mrs. Borne', and she added that she would give the recipes on request. President Eisenhower, she continued, likes nasturtium stems in his famous beef, vegetable soup. She doesn't want any turned up noses on the idea of the use of flowers in cooking either. How about herbs, spices, etc., she wants to know.

The happiest day of her life was when she married Mr. Borne', whom she calls Buff. He proved a perfect husband, courageous enough to try anything and smart enough to praise her cooking. He still does, too, after 28 years.

Their one child, Mary Frances, who is now Mrs. Jerry Engle, was born with an appetite, her mother said, and still has it. She liked everything at mealtime and in between and on all the special occasions. Having a mother who liked to cook, to have parties, and to decorate cakes, life was full of wonderful surprises for Mary Frances. Now her four children, Teddy, Christy, Bill and Kurt, are thrilled over the things their grandmother cooks, too. Cakes take on all kinds of forms and are cleverly decorated. There are doll cakes, hat cakes, circus cakes, basket cakes, train cakes — just everything to delight the hearts of children—and grownups, too, for that matter.

But, Mrs. Borne' admits that she has cake failures, too, just like everybody else. She remembers an applesauce cake she made and when she looked in the oven it had practically evaporated, leaving only sad-looking little raisins and nuts in the pan.

Virginia loves to give parties, any kind, and she lets her creative talent go when it comes to table decorations, coming up with something unusual as well as very attractive.

For six years she was a member Good Housekeeping magazine. She is a member of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, the Women's Guild, of which she is past president, the Rebekah Circle, past president of that, too; Varied Interest Club of which she is secretary; membership chairman of the Regional Women's Guild; a past president of Garden Club No. 1, treasurer of the Past President's Club, and a former member of the Business and Professional Women's Club serving as international relations chairman when in that organization.

Virginia and Buff belonged to the first Parent Psychology Class ever formed in the Evangelical and Reformed Church in the United States and she wonders if they learned more about psychology or food. "It's as much of a toss up," comments Mrs. Borne', "as the 40 servings of salad I was responsible for at each meeting.

The last several years has been the picnic age at the Borne' home, with a patio that can seat 40 people, her specialty is steak-sized buns—insert steaks and presto, she says, there is a filled plate in each hand.

Her pet preparations are casserole meals, molded salads, refrigerator dessert and surprise cakes.

Here are three of her favorite recipes:

Put about 2 lbs. of corned beef brisket in a pot, add enough water to cover over meat to a depth of 1½ inches or two. Let this boil slowly for 30 minutes. Now add 1 medium size onion, 3 stalks of celery, 1 tablespoon pickling spice a dash of cayenne pepper and 3 slices of lemon. Cook until meat is tender. Be sure to cook slowly. When done cut a medium size head of cabbage in slices and place in stew pan. Pour strained corn beef stock over cabbage. Cook until tender. Cornbread or corn muffins go very good with this dish.

Any maple syrup in the house? You can make a cake frosting from it by boiling 1¼ cups of it until the firm ball stage (242 degrees) and then gradually beating it into two stiffly - beaten egg whites.

ONION-CELERY SEED DRESSING
Anna Berniece McDonald
1012 East 16th, Sedalia
¾ cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
⅓ cup good cider vinegar
1 cup salad oil
1 tablespoon grated onion or onion juice
1 to 1½ teaspoons celery seed

Sift together the sugar, salt and mustard. Stir in the vinegar. Bring to the boiling point and boil 2½ minutes by the clock. Remove from fire and cool in the refrigerator. Have the salad oil and the syrup the same temperature. Beat the oil into the syrup, tablespoonful at a time, using a wooden spoon. The mixture will be thick. Stir in the celery seed and onion. Pour into jar and keep covered with a tight lid. If the mixture separates on standing, pour off oil and beat the oil back into the syrup. This can be done. Boiling reduces the moisture content which makes it easier for the oil to combine with the syrup. Onions vary in flavor, so it is better to start with a small amount, then taste and increase. Follow directions carefully for success.

DIVINITY

Mrs. Donald Bockelman
Route 1, Sedalia, Mo.

½ cup water
½ cup white corn syrup
2 cups beet sugar
2 egg whites (at room temperature)
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup broken nut meats or shredded coconut

Measure water and corn syrup into a medium-sized (two quart) saucepan; bring to a boil. Add sugar and stir to dissolve well. Cover pan, place over heat and bring to a boil. Cook about three minutes or until steam inside the pan has melted all the sugar crystals down from the sides. Remove cover and continue cooking without stirring to a hard ball stage (254 degrees). Watch carefully during last stages of cooking for the temperature will rise rapidly. While the syrup is cooking, place egg whites in a large bowl (you need lots of room for beating) and beat until they are just stiff enough to hold their shape. When syrup has reached the cooked stage, start pouring it over the egg whites in a fine stream. Beating vigorously with a slotted spoon or egg whip. Add the syrup a little more rapidly toward the end, but do not scrape the pan. When all the syrup has been added, measure in the vanilla extract, and nutmeats or coconut. Keep up the beating, changing to a heavy spoon if the whip seems too light. Rest between beating if you are doing it alone. When the candy is thick and creamy and holds its shape, drop from a teaspoon onto waxed paper; or spread into a lightly greased eight-inch square pan and cut into pieces while still warm. Makes 24 pieces.

Telephone Use Helps Shut-in Young Pupil

Judith Lynn Roberts, 12-year-old daughter of Capt. and Mrs. W. T. Roberts, Altus AFB, Okla., formerly of Sedalia, isn't in school these days but she knows what's going on.

She has missed her seventh grade classes at Altus Junior High School since last Nov. 14 because of a condition which forces her to lie flat on her back in bed for 24 hours a day.

Beginning recently, however, she has been able to communicate with her classmates and teacher through use of a two-way telephone hook-up between the school and her home.

The system consists of a control box in Judy's bedroom, and one in each of her class rooms, and a microphone which is transferred from one room to another at the school.

First the American Legion group at Altus provided a hospital bed for Judy. Then the Altus School District, headed by C. Peterson, superintendent of schools, obtained the support of the special education division of the Oklahoma department of education in providing funds for the telephone type system.

It is hoped that Judy might be able to remove the heavy cast she is currently confined in by March, but it will still require an additional four to six months before she will be able to walk.

Judy is the oldest granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Curtiss, Route 5, and her father is commander of the 2002nd AACS Squadron at Altus AFB.
